June 2022

It is the month of June, the month of leaves and roses, when pleasant sights salute the eyes and pleasant scents the noses.

~ Nathaniel Parker Willis

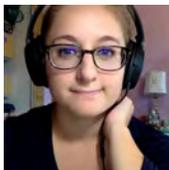

Director's Note

June is National Camping Month. I came to camping in my late 40s. I was surprised at the time to find that I loved it. Pitching a tent, living simply and cooking over a fire was a challenge at first but the benefits are many. Long hikes on rugged trails work your body but allow your mind to let go of worries. Staring into the campfire at night, one sees so many shapes and colors that calm... and peace can settle in. There is nothing to do but relax and enjoy the experience and the company.

That kind of camping may not be for everyone. If it is not for you, why not try a version of "camping lite"? Go out to the garden and spend a few minutes inhaling the fresh air after the lawn has been mowed; or pull a few weeds to feel the rich soil in your hands. Park at or walk to the water. Spend some time just watching the river flow by or the surf crash in. Let yourself savor time in the great outdoors. It is but a few precious minutes of your life, well-spent as you experience the grace of nature. Camping is truly for everyone. Start small, with a ten to twenty-minute camping trip away from everything and relax this summer. You deserve it.

Pam Dunning, Director

Welcome, Haley!

Hi to you all! I'm Haley Bailey, your new WPL Librarian. I am a local who has gone to school and lived in Wiscasset my entire 25 years. I attended University of Maine Augusta for my bachelor's degree in Information and Library Science. I am now in the last semester of my Library and Information Science master's degree program through University of Missouri – Columbia. I have always wanted to work in a public library and work with teens. I have a strong background in customer service, and I am excited to work with you! I am sure many of you will know me from my former job at the Wiscasset Shaw's. My current goal is to revitalize the whole teen area here at the library. When I'm not working or taking classes, I like to read, play video games and go on adventures. Nice to meet you!

Library Humor

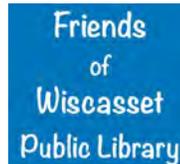

I asked the librarian if they had any books on turtles. "Hardback?" she inquired. "Yes" I said, "and little heads."

What do you call a sunburned librarian? Well red.

I asked the librarian for the location of the self-help section. She wouldn't tell me because she said that would defeat the purpose.

The Emergency: A Year of Healing and Heartbreak in a Chicago ER by Thomas Fisher is the riveting, pulse-pounding story of a year in the life of an emergency room doctor. Follow Fisher as he tries to steer his patients and colleagues through a crushing pandemic and a violent summer, amidst a healthcare system that seems determined to leave them behind.

As fast-paced as an ER shift, The Emergency has all the elements that make doctors' stories so compelling--the high stakes, the fascinating science and practice of medicine, the deep and fraught interactions between patients and doctors, the persistent contemplation of mortality. And, with the rare dual perspective of somebody who also has his hands deep in policy work, Fisher connects these human stories to the sometimes-cruel machinery of care. (Goodreads.com)

New Adult Fiction

Amani is hooked on a mystery—a poem on airmail paper that slips out of one of her father's books. It seems to have been written by her grandmother, a refugee who arrived in Jordan during the First World War. Soon the perfect occasion to investigate arises: her Uncle Hafez, an advisor to the King of Jordan, invites her father to celebrate the king's sixtieth birthday—and to fence with the king, as in their youth. Her father has avoided returning to his homeland for decades, but Amani persuades him to come with her. Uncle Hafez will make their time in Jordan complicated—and dangerous—after Amani discovers a missing relative and is launched into a journey of loss, history, and, eventually, a fight for her own life.

Diana Abu-Jabar's Fencing with the King masterfully draws on King Lear and Arthurian fable to explore the power of inheritance, the trauma of displacement, and whether we can release the past to build a future. (Goodreads.com)

New Nonfiction

Why would a successful Maine software developer in his early 60s close his laptop and spend an entire year chasing a little known birding record? Follow local author Ethan Whitaker's 2021 adventure as he travels from Kittery to Caribou to Camden to Fryeburg in an attempt to see every species of bird in Maine.

You'll join the author in his:

- Lobster boat trip in stormy seas to find a wayward bird that belongs in the tropics
- Freezing winter excursion to glimpse a rare owl
- Interactions with birders and non-birders as he travels throughout the state

Every Bird in Maine includes over 400 glossy wildlife photos by Whitaker, tied together with his humorous chronicle of an attempt to break the State's Big Year Birding Record. (Amazon.com)

The Outsiders by S. E. Hinton

This complex coming of age novel written by 16-year-old S. E. Hinton was first published in 1967, while Hinton was a freshman at University of Tulsa. In 1983, Francis Ford Coppola directed the film, following the book's text religiously. In the 1990s this was one of American Library Association's top 100 most challenged titles by those who would censor this young voice. As recently as 2019, BBC News listed Outsiders on its list of the 100 most influential novels. Read the book and be amazed by the talent of a young woman who followed her dream.

The Children's Room

Juneteenth (June 19) is the newest Federal holiday, and the State of Maine celebrates it too. What is Juneteenth? The library is the best place to ask, right? We have an answer and a Juneteenth craft.

Juneteenth is the traditional day people of color celebrate the emancipation of African Americans from slavery. Come pick up one of our books about the subject — we have one for every age level but the very youngest.

Maine has another holiday on the same weekend! June 17 has been declared James Weldon Johnson Day. Who was James Weldon Johnson? He was an extraordinarily famous and influential poet, lawyer, and civil rights advocate back in the early 1900s. He was born on June 17, 1871, in Florida. He and his wife spent their summers in Islesboro, Maine. He had many accomplishments during his lifetime. An especially memorable one was his penning of the poem that became the song "Lift Every Voice and Sing," known today as the Black national anthem. His brother John wrote the music. The poem was first recited by 500 children as a tribute on Abraham Lincoln's birthday in 1900. The song's popularity grew. Today it is still sung, recently by Beyonce at several events. Come peruse our new books on this subject. Free coloring page for all patrons young and old.
