

Wiscasset Public Library CHILDREN'S ROOM

21 High St. Wiscasset, ME, 04578 207-882-7161
wpl@wiscassetlibrary.org

What should we call this corn? Is it Indian corn or ornamental corn? Some people say calico corn while others call it flint corn. You can eat this corn but the kernels are so hard that they need special preparation to be edible. The kernels are as hard as flint! Whatever you call this corn it is remarkably pretty and a common sign of fall. Enjoy making your tissue paper corn decoration to hang on your front door.

When you come to pick up your books—remember there are Crafts to Go.

Tissue Paper Corn

Fall Handprint Owl

Napkin rings for Four

Turkey Centerpiece

FRIDAY STORY TIME IS BACK ON THE SCHEDULE!

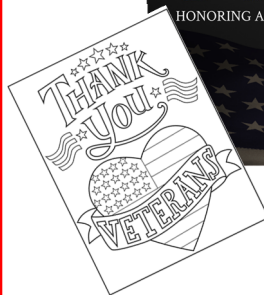

When: 11:00 am, Friday s starting 11/4.

How long: about 30 minutes but plan some extra time for playing afterwards

Where: the Children's Room

Who: young children from birth to 5 years of age and a caregiver

What: stories, songs, and rhymes with lots of movement—no shushing here!

The library has posters for you to pick up. Included is a stamped envelope addressed to the Maine Veteran's Hospital. Color the posters, place them in the envelope and drop them in the mail. They will be distributed to our Veterans in the hospital. Cheer somebody up today with a colorful thank you poster.